BEYOND ENDURANCE.

From the Bridgeport (Conn.) Standard, Jan. 4.

The newspaper cut, in its best aspect, is bad enough generally, but when it invades the privacy of the death chamber and pictures the final scenes of that most solemn hour, making ridiculous the occasion by its impossible and improbable caricatures, it is time that public opinion put a stop to its erratic performances and gave it to understand that there are limits even to pictorial propriety, and places where the pencil of the penny-a-liner is as out of place as any other untimely, impertinent, and vulgar thing would be.
